Planning a forest

Healthy forests today and tomorrow

The growing cycle

As a landowner, Nathaniel has a plan to harvest and plant trees so the forest is always growing. 9

What can a tree make?

Draw a line from the tree to the products
you can make from them.

Enjoying the forest

SFI Forests provide a place for outdoor activities like camping, hiking and fishing. Just being in the forest is good for your health!

Start at the forest entrance and find your way to the campsite.

Get out and be active!

There are so many fun and healthy things you can do in a forest or with the wood products they produce.

Activities

Bird watching
Planting a tree
Hiking

Tree climbing
Canoeing

Green building

Some trees are used to make houses, offices, bridges and other buildings.

Wood looks great.

Building with wood helps the environment.

Wood is easy for builders to work with.

Using wood is energy efficient.

Draw a forest

When forests are certified to SFI, they are grown again and again, so the forest will never go away.

Can you add more trees to this forest?

Sustainable forestry is good for everyone

More than 285 million acres / 115 hectares of forests in Canada and the U.S. are certified to the SFI standard, to make sure they will be there for everyone today and in the future.

Did you know that North America's forests provide products that are used all over the world?
