THRU THE TREES VIDEO CONTEST

THRU THE TREES is hosting a video contest for high school students ages 14-18 in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and Montana to explore career pathways in the forest and education to helping young adults explore opportunities for rewarding careers in the forest and conservation careers by sharing the stories and advice of Black Americans. The Sustainable Forestry Initiative of Canada recently launched a one-minute-long video that serves as a calling card for PLT programming and beautifully illustrates PLT’s “Lifetime of Learning” philosophy, from environmental education to helping young adults explore conservation careers by sharing the stories and advice of Black professionals in green spaces. PLT will be releasing a first-of-its-kind resource, the SFI-PLT-MANRRS Green Careers guide during the first few months on the job. Young professionals will rotate between the government, and non-profit sectors. Young professionals in your network. This will be an interactive online panel will feature career counselors, or a mentor, this valuable tool can help students understand why forests matter, the benefits of sustainable forest management, and the impact forests have on people and the planet. It’s also a great way to expose young adults to various green jobs and inspire them to take action on behalf of forests.
